1985 Tiger Outlook

VINCENT TAKES OVER TIGER HELM

Change is ever present in a collegiate athletic program. The changes have come all too often in the head coaching position at Fort Hays State in the last three seasons. John Vincent takes over as the head man of the Tiger football program this season. Vincent is the third head coach in as many seasons.

A change in philosophy accompanies the change in coaches for FHSU this season. Vincent has approached last spring and this fall with a better concern for the players. "We've made extensive changes in as far as the way we handle the players, very extensive changes," Vincent said. "If you are going to play football it has to be a positive experience because it is enough hard work playing and practicing. You have to have some kind of rewards and its got to be fun, especially when you play."

Vincent and staff have had a banner recruiting year with the signing of about 40 athletes. The first year coach sees the addition of these players as a step toward implementing his philosophy. "Last year it was very negative," Vincent said. "It's a situation where we really have to be positive with the people. I think we're bringing in enough people that there is going to be good competition at the positions, so I think those kind of things will take care of themselves."

OFFENSE

The Tigers return eight starters on offense from the 1984 squad that finished 4-6 overall and 1-6 in the Central States Intercollegiate Conference. Returning for FHSU is its record setting quarterback, Robert Long (6-2, 190). Long currently holds 13 game, season and career passing records. He sat out the final seven games last season with a broken thumb.

Absent from this years team will be Long's number one target, Marty Boxberger. Boxberger, who graduated, will be sorely missed according to Vincent. "I don't think you replace him overnight. He had a great football mind and could adjust routes on the field. He is helping us coach, maybe he can help pass that on," said Vincent.

Four of the top five leading receivers do return this season in the person of Kelly Barnard (TE, 6-3, 180), Ralph Humphrey (SE, 5-10, 170), Eric Busenbark (TB, 6-1, 190) and Terry Thomas (TB, 5-9, 185). Thomas was also the leading ground gainer for the Tigers last season. "I think with Long, Humphrey and Thomas coming back along with the offensive line we have the nucleus for a good offense," Vincent stated.

DEFENSE

Defensively the Black & Gold return five starters and the picture is a little more clouded. Chris Honas (LB, 6-2, 220) will return after over a year out with an injury. He went down with a knee injury late in the 1983 season and injured the opposite knee a few weeks prior to the start of last season. Honas' status is still a question mark. Another key on defense is how well a host of transfers will fill the spots in the line. "I believe if they play to their potential a couple of these transfers we're getting will be as good as anybody in our conference," Vincent said. "If we do have any strength to point out on our team it is our defensive secondary. I believe player by player they will be second to none in the conference."

Other top returnees in the defensive alignment are cornerback Jeff Carter (6-2, 195), linebacker Paul Nelson (6-1, 180), linebacker Dan Gillig (6-1, 210), linebacker Sam Holloway (6-1, 190) and defensive tackle Blessing Tuoti (6-4, 245).

DEPTH

Vincent has gone to extreme measures in recruiting to insure his team of better depth. This is another area in which his coaching philosophy differs from his predecessors. "The philosophy that Gilstrap and Thompson had was that you could have three guys at each position. For instance, you could have two offensive guards and one to back them up. My philosophy is different than that," Vincent said. "I think you have to have 22 players that are capable of starting on offense and 22 players capable of starting on defense. I believe you have to be two deep at each position and by that I don't mean backup. I mean a guy that comes in and between him and the starter there is not a hairs bit of difference."

The Tiger head man believes that he and his staff are approaching that kind of depth. Included in his master plan is to bring 20 to 25 freshmen into the program each year and build with those players for the future. Vincent believes that he has to approach this in terms of success in the CSIC. "I believe that if you want to be successful in the conference that we play in — tough & hard hitting — that you can't play with 11 people on offense and 11 on defense with one guy backing up two positions," Vincent said. "I don't believe that is feasible."

SUMMARY

The coaches that preceded John Vincent on the football field were all judged by their success in one way or another. Winning is the measure used the majority of the time for success and Vincent acknowledges this when stating his own idea of what a successful season would be in his first year as a head coach.

"A successful season obviously is when you have a winning percentage. I think there are also some intangibles such as do your players play to the best of their abilities and/or did you live up to the potential that you felt going into the season. If I had to put it down into win/loss, I'd say 5-5 or 6-4 and yet as the season progresses those figures may change due to injuries or your playing up to your potential. What started out to be a successful season may change. Your goals may change as you go along. It's kind of a fluid thing."

The Tiger football squad for 1985 is in the hands of first year coach Vincent and his staff. They seem to know what is ahead of them and the approach they want to take to accomplish success.

John Vincent — Head Coach

John Vincent is the first year head coach of the Tigers. Vincent moves in from the defensive coordinator spot he held for the last three seasons into the position vacated by Bobby Thompson.

The native of Medicine Lodge, KS sees things working out about the way he had hoped in his career. "I've always wanted to do things my way, especially as far as time is concerned," Vincent said. "I had a five year plan. I wanted to be at the college level in 3 to 5 years as a coordinator and then have a chance at being a head coach. The way things have worked out it is right along my time schedule."

With experience in the high school and junior college ranks, Vincent has coached at all levels. In 1980-81, he was the defensive secondary coach at New Mexico Military Institute. He has also held head coaching positions at Victoria and Claflin high schools.

Vincent believes the transition from assistant coach to head coach will not be as difficult for him as one might think. "I don't think it was as great as I had thought. There is a lot more administrative type work," he says. "You have to handle all of the problems and the paper work. Setting up a recruiting philosophy was something I have done. We never had a recruiting philosophy until now."

The Tiger head mentor received both his undergraduate and graduate degrees from Fort Hays State. He earned his M.S. in physical education in 1982 and his B.S. in biology in 1971. While working on his masters degree Vincent was a graduate assistant on the FHSU staff.

Vincent attended Kansas State University before finishing his undergraduate work at Fort Hays State. His football playing career was cut short by a stint in the Army. He played cornerback and free safety on Army post teams that competed in inner service games. Vincent went out for Tiger spring ball in 1979 but was unable to play.

John and his wife, Mary are parents of twin sons, Shiloh and Tanner. The Vincents are expecting a third child in December.

Gerald Tomanek — President

Dr. Gerald W. (Jerry) Tomanek has been president at Fort Hays State University since 1976. He is the University's seventh president and number one sports fan. He and his lovely wife, Ardis, are virtually permanent fixtures at Tiger home athletic events and attend many road contests as well.

An environmentalist and grasslands consultant, Tomanek has served the University in many capacities since joining the faculty in 1947. His teaching skills and magnetism in the classroom are legend with alumni and faculty. The President holds bachelor's and master's degrees from FHSU and the Ph.D. degree from the University of Nebraska.

Tomanek's accolades are many. He was twice called to the Argentine to lend his grasslands expertise, was a consultant for a CBS-TV prairie grasslands special, is the recipient of numerous awards for his conservation practices and knowledge, and was

Lewis Field

Lewis Field Stadium, the 7,000-seat home of the Tigers, was constructed in 1936 on what was formerly the Golden Belt Fairgrounds, and named in honor of William Alexander Lewis, president from 1913 to 1933.

The native limestone structure is located beside a spacious tree-lined drive and is just a short walk from the campus residence halls and the downtown business district.

The stadium turf is Bermuda grass, the same strong-rooted plant used in golf course greens.

Dressing rooms, concession areas, restrooms, athletic training facilities, and equipment storage rooms are located under the grand-stands.

Fans are admitted through two main gates located on both the east and west sides, with four ticket windows in service for the game.

Atop both the east and west grandstands are press box facilities which provide seating for writers and statisticians, three radio stations, scouts, and three film crews.

An eight-lane, cinder track surrounds the playing field and adjacent to the stadium are regulation size practice facilities.

Fort Hays State University

An aerial view of Fort Hays State University depicts the campus many have said is the "prettiest in Kansas." All the buildings are laced with limestone and the new, lush grass and beautiful trees help the campus live up to its reputation.

Fort Hays State University's beautiful tree-lined campus provides students with an attractive educational setting.

The University is located in Hays, a city of more than 17,000 persons, situated about halfway between Kansas City and Denver on Interstate 70 Highway.

Faculty at FHSU numbers more than 300. An additional 280 staff members contribute to the friendly, clean atmosphere found on the campus.

Students at FHSU have the opportunity to pursue a career by selecting from 24 departmental offerings, our school of nursing, or from our preprofessional programs. The University offers degrees including one, two, four, five and six-year study programs, and we offer the associate, bachelor's, master's and specialist in education degrees.

Annual enrollment at FHSU is more than 5,000 students. Two-thirds of the student body are graduates of rural Kansas high schools.

The University offers students a variety of extracurricular activities in which to participate. Departmental and professional clubs, intramurals, varsity athletics, and other groups and activities beckon those with the talent and time to participate.

Four national sororities and five national fraternities maintain chapters here and add to the social, academic and philanthropic activities of student life.

Several concerts are brought to campus each year by the Memorial Union Activities Board. Other entertainment forms come as speakers, dancers or touring groups and individuals.

Fees at FHSU are comparable to other state-assisted institutions in Kansas and considerably less than the private colleges. Persons enrolling in 15 hours of work should be prepared to pay about $500 each semester at FHSU. Fees do not include the cost of books.

For housing, the University offers two women's residence halls, two men's residence halls, one co-ed hall, and married student housing, all within easy walking distance of classes.
